Imagine you were stuck in an enchanted island and you can only take one person with you. Who would you take? Why would you take this person? What would you do? Write a story about your adventures.